“Dave was the best friend anyone could hope for. I know because he was my best friend. Anyone who knew Dave will tell you that he was one of a kind. He never turned his back on anyone in need. He was always willing to help if needed and always had a smile on his face. He never talked bad about anyone, even those who did him wrong. He just would not talk about them and change the subject if someone pressed him.

I could go on and on about what a great guy he was, but if you are reading this you already know. I miss my friend. I wish I could have done more for him that day, Not a day has gone by that I do not think about him in someway. At work I expect to see him walking down the isle on the way to the breakroom. At home I look at the trees and think of him, Him and I and Nick cut up many a fallen tree and hauled them to his house. He had at least 4 or 5 years worth of wood for the winters. He was the type who would rather burn wood than gas and he was willing to work it.

When I think of Dave, I think of a great friend, a great person and a GREAT FATHER. I believe he left us so that he could take care of Nick on the other side, if that is possible. Nobody really knows what happens when we die. We have thoughts and hopes of what happens. We have been taught about what happens in the teachings of the religions and such but there is no proof, so I say I do not know what happens when we die. I will say that if there is a way for Dave to find Nick on the other side, that Dave will find it! That is just the way Dave is.

I hope and pray that both Dave and Nick find/found what they were looking for. I will miss both of them as long as I breath and hope to reunite with them when my time comes to cross over.
