“ I was a Forestry student on the co-op program at Purdue University in the mid-70s when I first met Dean. In the co-op program I alternated semesters at the University with semesters working for Pike Lumber Company. Dean was my mentor. I remember him as a man who had a great passion for his profession. He told me when he first hired on at Pike as a timber buyer he memorized the entire Doyle log rule so he could tally logs as quickly as possible. I remember having dinner at his house with his family the one semester I worked in Akron. I also remember him giving me a ride in his model T. I remember Dean as being a kind, decent human being. He treated me with a great deal of respect. I will always fondly remember Dean even though I haven't seen him for over 40 years. I wish to express my deepest sympathy to his wife, children, their spouses and grandchildren.

“Dean is best remembered for his passion for the hardwood resource in the acquiring of raw materials to feed our sawmills, purchasing forested tracts for our network of forestlands, and managing forested tracts for Pike and other private individuals to help attain management objectives. Dean loved to plant trees for the company, privately, and to pass his passion along during the annual Akron 2nd grader plant and forest tour and tree planting every April. Dean also was key to the success of Pike Lumber Company leading the management team as President and as a member of the Pike Board of Directors.

Dean with the help of Dennis LeMaster and David Downey of Purdue University lead the management team through a continuing education process of establishing a marketing plan that serves as a business guidance system.

His leadership in trade associations such as IHLA, where Dean was a past president, convinced the membership of the importance of the hardwood resource as vital to the health of the industry.

Eventually, due to Dean's persistence, the IHLA became a charter member of the Hardwood Tree Improvement and Regeneration (HTIRC) at Purdue and holds a seat on their advisory committee and supplies annual funding to support it.

His leadership at Pike Lumber Company, in the industry, and in the Akron Community serves as a shining example to others to follow his example he modeled so well throughout his life.

Serving as President of Pike Lumber Company, I often drew on Dean's advice and council in many areas including resource, operations, and support of the community. It was a pleasure serving with Dean on Pike Lumber Company Board of Directors giving direction and vision to the long term sustainability of a top corporate member of the hardwood industry.

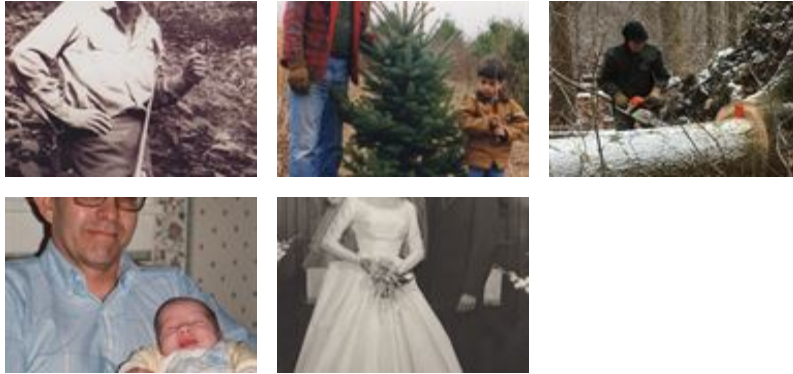

Dean touched many lives wherever he was and his enthusiasm was infectious; he will be sorely missed.

“ I'll miss Dean. He had Phil hire me into the Pike Forestry Dept. in 1995 and away from the DNR Forestry Division who would not let us Service Foresters mark timber sales or even do any forestry labor on the side. It was good to work with people I respected at Pike like loggers and sawmill workers in a class outfit. I always loved sawmills and being with loggers in the woods - so I got out of bureaucracy prison and was able to apply my trade! It was great - all because of Dean and his vision for the Forestry Department complimenting the sawmill production efforts. Pat Walker

“ Mr. Baker, as I always knew him was my summer neighbor on Big Lake in Minnesota! He was one of the first people I met after moving onto Big Bear Ln! We exchanged words for almost an hour that first meeting, and would wave and say hello when we would meet during the summers! This past month I knew he wasn't doing so well as I saw his wife on our road, I always meant to stop and say HI but just couldn't find the time! Sorry Mr.Baker we will see each other again where I will give you a proper apology!RIP
