“ We live just east of Don on the road that he walked many times past our house. We met Don several years ago and spent many times just visiting as he walked by our house. We talked about many things as our neighborhood changed and also about our families. We were so glad when he was able to retire and enjoy more time to travel. We just really enjoyed seeing him walking so we could visit and catch up on things. Having neighbors that you really enjoy seeing, and visiting with, are a blessing and we were blessed with his friendship. And somehow we missed him in church but I think we rarely missed him when he was out for a walk.

Our deepest condolences to his wife and family. We are so thankful that we had the neighborhood friendship and We’re not exaggerating when we say we will really, really miss him.
