“ Forst Dunnuck was my junior and senior year high school principal, TVHS class of 1975. He was a wonderful mentor, a good man, and an educator that led by example. Mr. Dunnuck was one of those principals who took an active interest in his students' lives. These are not mere platitudes or empty compliments. He truly lived the life worthy of emulation. He was one of those educators who I would have kicked myself senseless rather than disappoint him. Mr. Dunnuck was one of the reasons I became a high school teacher.

When I neared graduation I was notified I was to be a recipient of the annual Who's Who Among High School Students. By that society's criteria, I was not academically deserving of the honor. I learned later that he had written a letter on my behalf asking them to consider me.

I can think of few men I whom would want my child having as a principal. Mr. Dunnuck took a special interest in me as one of his charges and I often remembered him fondly through the years and wondered where he was. You were a good man, a great father, and husband. Fare thee well, kind Sir. You will be missed.
