“ The hardest thing to do is to lay someone whom you love so much to rest. Today will be such an emotional day. The best feeling, yesterday, was seeing how many lives Joy touched. Family is the greatest thing and even though it is hard to get through this, it is important to remember that we all will be reunited again in a place so much better than what we have here on earth.

Joy, you will be missed by so many and even though I have only been blessed to be a part of your family for a short time I do know there are so many who love you and will miss your smile and laughter. We can't wait for the day when we can all be reunited with you!

Thank you for sharing your wonderful family with me. I'm sure you are watching from above with such pride for each of them!

I am definitely going to miss the way she used to say hello when you'd answer the phone when she called. Her "hello" was always a long and drawn-out hello. It would remind you of slow motion. As if that weren't enough, she always and I do mean always, had to say this is Joy! like I didn't recognize that was her voice on the other end. I'm going to miss her laugh too. Its going to be hard for all of us who loved her, but we will see her again. Knowing that, gives us the strength to keep going on with our lives until that time comes. Love you Joy...

Only four photos but a lifetime spent with Aunt Joy. I made her an Aunt for the first time; I am her first niece. I just love saying that because I just recently became an Aunt myself and have my first niece! She is missed already and will be missed forever. I pray that we keep her memory alive within us by always talking about her and remembering her life here. I love you Aunt Joy. Uncle Mark and Mariah, Megan, Christy, Jeremy, and Josh are all doing amazing. You did good!!

I lit a candle of green that shows the family that Joy will never be forgotten that even though she has left as the trees are turning green and the grass is renewing and that the life around us is starting to refresh and brighten that your mom and your wife will always be with you all. Look at the way she enjoyed each and everyone of you all. her refreshing words will always be something you all cherish and her beautiful smile will always be as fresh as the spring grass and her smile always as bright as the new spring sun. She will always warm your heart so think of her often and remember each and everyday she is always with you in so many ways. Hope this will help. Love Aunt Chris

“ Our thoughts and prayers are with you, Mark and the family. I have so many memories of Joy from when I first remember her when we were really little at my 2nd birthday, as we grew up, her graduation day at MHS, her wedding day and when each of her daughters were born. I will always remember her smile and her laughter and those carefree days pushing each other on that rope swing in her back yard.

“ Mark and family, I am so sorry for your loss. I was so happy and blessed to have met and spent time with Joy this past summer. She was so excited to show us around and introduce us to your many animals that I know she loved. She was so friendly and I know compassionate. She also loved her family very much. She was a beautiful woman and I know she will truly be missed by all. You all will be in my thoughts and prayers. I will be there with you all in spirit. Love you. Cousin Sharon in NY
