“ My loving sister has been gone 4 years and it seems like yesterday we were having lunch our dinner somewhere. I would love to have her back and have an eating contest with a big eater. she would have been hard to beat. There are so many things I miss about her it breaks my heart. I will never forget the times we were together she was such a joy anytime. Anyone that knew her loved her she was so sweet and meek. I will get over to see and talk to you soon. You are always in my heart and on my mind. I will remember you until I die so one thing for sure you will never be forgotten. Your Loving Sister Linda . Till we meet again in heaven!

“ Today is 2 lonely years you have been gone. But you are always in my heart. I will never forget you I promise and all the good times we shared together.. I am going to try and get over to the Cemetery for a visit with you today. But I will always carry a piece of you with me. I know it's there because it went with you when you left. People think I am crazy for writing but this gives me peace of mind. I know you are watching over me and keeping me safe until we meet again. I Love you forever and always. Your loving Sister. I will talk to you later.

5 more days until Thanksgiving 2022 it seems like you were here yesterday. I miss you so much especially around the holidays we would be out shopping. I have a Christmas gift for you I have to take it over and hang it on your Shepherds hook. If only you could see it you would say you didn't have to do that. I want to show you how much I love you. I can't give it to you in person but you have it till after Christmas anyway. It is very cold today. I am freezing and the heat is on 77 so it would be plenty warm in here for you but not me you know I am always cold. I am going to shower now but I will talk to you later. And Always remember I love you. Your Loving Sister Linda

“ It’s me again my Dear Angel I just wanted to tell you how much I love you and miss you so much it hurts. I will never get over losing you like I said before a part of me went with you when you left. I went over to your resting place yesterday and gathered the Christmas stuff and I have to get you some summer or spring stuff. There was a beautiful little church on your Christmas wreath but it was gone I think the wind took it away I looked but couldn’t find it. I will miss you even more when and if I can go Mushroom hunting my back has a bad problem I had to get a big container of laundry soap off the top shelf and when I did my back popped and the pain started and that has been over a week ago and it’s not getting any better it’s numb but hurts like thunder and down my left leg. I see the doctor tomorrow but I am thinking the disk I had that was so thin finally ended, but I will find out tomorrow I was scheduled for surgery March 3rd 2020 but I was scared so I prayed a lot about it and Jesus spoke to me and told me not to have it so I listened to him and didn’t have it. So hopefully it’s not gone but the way it feels it’s gone. I Love you and I will text you later always remember my Love for you will go with me when I see you again. Always your Loving Sister Linda

I just want to say hi and I know you are fine because you are in heaven. That’s the only comfort I get is knowing you are there and no more sorrow and pain. It’s sure painful for me being here without you. I don’t know how the others cope with you being gone but it’s so hard for me I will never get over that pain and emptiness I feel in my heart. I am going to see if I can find you a Charlie Brown tree if I can’t I will put a bulb on your Pine Tree. And wish you a Merry Christmas. And I Love you forever. See you one day when Jesus calls my number.

It's me again today is 4 years since you have been gone and I still miss you just like I have all this time. And time doesn't heal you just try to deal with the loss. I just miss you so much. The only relief I get is knowing you aren't hurting anymore but you never complained. You are one of the sweetest most happy and humble people I know I just wish I had you back again I would do things different. I know you love your grandchildren but no matter how bad you felt you always looked after them. You had a lot more patience than I ever had. Remember once I asked you if NO was in your vocabulary. Then you got to the point of telling them NO. Kinsi has a big boy he weighed 9lbs15ounces. She has a set of rules before you can go see him with her rules I doubt I will ever see him. I asked Kodi don't they live with you in your house she said yes but she was letting them run her house. So only her family was allowed to see him. So needless to wi am not going to go over there at at. TheyGary and Kodi said if they didn't want you there they could go to their bedroom Connie went held him and Jimmy told him to go get on FB and see their ridiculous rules they had. He said if he had known that before he wouldn't have gone over there to see him they were worried about germs but they have 3 dogs that go with them and they went on vacation last week. How crazy. Going to get off now but I will talk to you later. Love you forever and think of you daily. I have cried most of the day but that's not unusual I do that ever time I see something that reminds me of you. Love you Sweet Sister see you soon.

She has been gone 8 months and it seems so long she was our Mushroom partner and this time of year is so hard for me. I can see her in the woods I just wish she knew how I miss her, but I wouldn't wish her back now as bad as I want to really see her she was so strong she hung on for a long time just because she knew how much it would hurt all of us to let her go. She is always in my heart and on my mind. God sure got a wonderful Angel when he took her. I know she is in a better place but that doesn't take the pain away. I wish everyone could have known her there was just something special about her that you had to Love her. I still text her ever night that's my way of coping with losing her. She came to me in a very clear dream and she told me she wanted a pine tree so I am just waiting for her stone to be set so I can put it on her resting place. I Love you my dear sister always.

Just a few more days my dear sister friend and loved one. You will be gone a year it has been long and lonely but short. I never thought I could miss anyone as much as I do you. You were always with us no matter what you never complained you were a blessing to all who knew you. 10 more days to be exact but I will be so sad that day I wouldn't be able to write anything I just want you to know how much I miss and love you I will carry your memory and love with me till the day I die. I miss our shopping trips and going to eat and all those plates around you and you ate ever bite o lord what I would give to have just one more days back like that. But God knows best he needed a perfect Angel that's why he chose you. I will see you again and we just might get to sit down and eat with God. Wouldn't that be wonderful? Good night Sweet Pea I will always love you!! I will see you some day when God calls my number until then keep checking your Obituary.

We have another sister with lung cancer. It's not the same as you had but it's still scary. I have a spot on my lung 8cm but I am not going to have a Biopsy because if it is Cancer it can stay there until god takes me home. I really don't want to know because I wouldn't do any Chemo or Radiation because that's killing people before they have much time with their families so I am being stubborn I guess. But I never get tired of thinking and visiting you and as long as I can I will continue to do it. It's just so hard not being able to go over to your house I haven't been there since the morning they took you away. I don't think I can ever go there again nothing against Connie but I just can't bring myself to go back over there. I Love you and I always will.

It will soon be 3 long years since God called you to be with his precious Angels, It seems like someday you have been gone forever and others like it was yesterday. I see things that remind me of you and I get so lonely because you are not here, I can't speak for the others but I know I will never get over that pain and hole left in my heart. The flowers are coming up but you have beautiful flowers all around you and I know you are enjoying that you loved your beautiful flowers. I am going to go for now and I will drop in again if I am alive and say or something. LOVE AND MISS YOU MY DEAR SISTER.

People say time heals but it doesn't. It will be 2 lonely years and I still hurt today as bad as I did the day I had to say good bye. I still grieve for my sister and I probably always will. I know she is better off but my pain isn't any less. People think you can just forget about losing a Loved one but people grieve in their own way and in their own time they might learn to accept it and try to get past it but for now she is still fresh in my mind and on my heart. It's going to be Mushroom season pretty soon and I am going to be heartbroken yet again because she won't be with me needless to say she loved going with me and when she found one she was so happy and I can hear her voice Sis I found one that was such a joyful sound. I miss her ever day and I have to deal with losing her in my own way and own time that's just something you don't get over in a couple of days. She was my sister and I Love her so much and I miss hearing her voice and seeing her especially going shopping and the holidays. I looked forward to eating Christmas Dinner at her house ever year and I think she looked forward to us being there. There is so many things that remind me of time spent with her and I cry I know she is in a better place especially now with the virus going crazy but that doesn't make me miss her any less. I am glad she is in Gods presence and I know she is no longer in pain that is my only comfort about her being gone. Love you Dear Sister and I hope to see you some day which I know I will so until we see each other again always remember I Love you with what heart I have left because you took a part with you when you left me. 02/2/2021!!

It's just me again sitting here thinking about you which I do so much. Lanny took your Mushroom over Monday pretty soon you will have enough to fry. You know I love going mushroom hunting but I am not happy since you can't go with me even though I can feel you there I would love to look up and see you standing there it would be so wonderful. I miss you so much people don't have any idea what pain is until you lose a sister daughter and friend all in one. And that's exactly what I lost when I lost you. I know in my mind what I am supposed to do but my heart tells me different. I never knew it would or could hurt like it has since I lost you my mind just wanders in your direction all the time. People tell me you are gone and not coming back I just might as well face it but no I can't just forget you and all the reminders I love thinking about them and the things we used to do they don't interest me anymore. I miss you that much. I don't ever want to forget the good time we spent together I just wish we could have just one more day together to do some of that stuff whatever you wanted to do I would be happy with that because I don't feel I got to tell you goodbye like I really should have. You know through god all things are possible he could give us that one day if we would both believe and ask in his name and if it be his will you can come back for another day. I would love to have you longer but you don't had to follow Jesus. I am waiting for that day to come yet and I believe I will because god only knows how much I love and miss you and long for that one day. I still haven't been able to go to the house I don't like to go by there I go around the block. Lanny would love to see you and go with us. He misses and loves you as much as I do. We are always taking you something over when the season changes or the weather. Well enough for now but I will talk to you again soon. Love you always you are in my heart and always on my mind. Love you dearly my Sister!

Happy 4th of July my dear sister I was weeding the flowers and thought you would like to know what I feel for you and that I'd how much I love and miss you. I can't go over and sit in your yard and watch the Fireworks again because you aren't there. I still haven't been over there and I don't think I ever will be. I would miss you not being there and I would cry and ruin it for everyone else. I don't want to do that. But you could come tomorrow for the cookout at our house like you have before you can come visit me anytime in a dream a vision or how ever god will send you. People probably think I am crazy but this is my therapy but I know I will never get over losing you. You were so precious to Lanny and I he misses you just as much as I do. He even cries sometimes I will be crying and he will ask what's wrong and then he will say never mind I know. We visit your resting place often and put new stuff on it you would be proud to know we haven't forgotten you and never will. I just wish I could have you back once more alone to really talk to you. But maybe in God's time that will happen but you know how much I love and miss you. I will send you another text later. I have to go visit you today and see if your Rose Moss is up and needs weeded out. I will talk to you then.. All my Love to you yesterday, today and forever. Love and miss you my Dear Sister.

It's going to be 2 lonely and unhappy day for me I am going to miss you coming to the Ham and Bean cookout. I am going to visit you shortly after I get a shower. It is chilly outside but since you are in the arms of the lord you are snuggled in and at peace. It is a few days less than a month till you will be gone 2 years you know I love and miss my other family that is there with you but honestly not like I do you. We were so close and loved each other so much. Most of my siblings could still be here but they chose a different way of life than we did they died for being foolish and it's so sad they don't think what they are doing to the ones left behind. You didn't have a choice God needed you for something special just like you. You. We have lived in the same house since you were 13 years old and I feel like I lost a daughter and sister at the same time and that is so hard. But I will see you again I have to go check your tree and make sure it is Ok and not dry I will take water with me just in case. You had beautiful Rose Miss come up in the pot last year and it was beautiful I don't know how it got in there but I am so glad it did it was beautiful and I hope it is this year. If it isn't I will plant some for you I know how you loved it. I am going to stop for now but I am not leaving you until the Lord takes me home to be with you and the others. I Love you and I hope you can feel that Love I will never stop as long as I am alive and when I'm gone I will still be with you. Love you always and forever. Your loving sister Linda

Hi my dear sister sitting here reading some of the memories I have left you. Right now it's a sad time Donna has Lung Cancer and they took the spot off and some Lymph nodes out she is going through Chemo and she is so sick just like you were when you ate. I am afraid she will dehydrate and get weak and down and not come back. She is afraid to eat right now because she is nauseated. So I just hope and pray god will intervene and heal her. He knows I don't want to lose another sister. Love you always! Talk to you later I had better get to bed now. Love you always! Linda

Hi my Sweet Sister, yesterday was your birthday and you wasn't here to celebrate it. That's Ok knowing you are in heaven with the other family members but I still Love and miss you so much it hurts. About 8 months and you will be gone from us in body for 3 years that's the hardest 3 years I have ever had in my life (If I make it that long) There is so much evil going on now it's hard and then there's a disease people are getting worse than the Flu but they have the same symptoms I guess Donna had it she was really sick. She didn't have to be hospitalized thank god. I am glad you didn't have to endure this illness it still isn't over more and more pops up. But I just figured I would tell you Happy birthday and I Love and miss you my dear angel. So I will say good night and I Love you forever and I will never forget you. Linda
