“ When I think of someone that lived about the perfect life, I think of Aunt Norma. She was a great big sister to my mom, daughter, wife, mother, grandmother, great grandmother...just thinking of the wonderful family she has created is quite unbelievable. The Weaver family is the definition of good, decent, kind, and loving family and Norma set that standard for all to live. And when someone didn't, she typically had something to say about that too 🙄. There is no one in my life that I have more respect and appreciation for than Aunt Norma. If she didn't already have 100+ kids to look after I would have tried to adopt her myself after mom died. I have truly enjoyed every conversation we had over the years, insight about mom and dad, and the peace she has given me from her advice. I hope she is with mom, dad, Lloyd, grandma and grandpa in heaven now where she belongs after doing such amazing work here on earth. We loved Norma and will miss her so much.

“ I remember her telling the story in her early years getting her young & large family ready for church on Sundays. She would be the last one to get ready. One particular Sunday, she was singing up front with 2 other ladies, she looked down, & she still had her “barn” shoes on!!! When I was a young mom raising 2 little kids, there were many times I would think... “How did Aunt Norma do it!!” She certainly will be missed, but it makes me happy knowing she is in Heaven now singing her heart out!!
