“ Mr. Hinkle was a great teacher. I still will never say, "Hunnert" instead of "hundred" because he would make us write sentences if we did. :) I use that as an example when teaching my own students about pronunciation. I am math challenged but he was able to get me to understand the concepts. Thank you Mr. Hinkle.

“ Awe....a life cut too short. I only knew Bob as a teacher- he wore the facade of a curmudgeon but to his greatest legacy, the thousands of students he taught, he was a beloved teacher. He always had extra time for his students and was a secret benefactor of money when a student had a need for glasses, lunch money, field trip money. His infamous frown was his upside down smile and everyone knew it!
