“Dave and I are saddened to hear of Roy's passing. Roy was a family friend who helped us on our farm many times. After my husband died Roy was someone I could count on if I needed help. Roy was full of old time remedies and potions that he shared. I still use some today. Roy was a welcome visitor when he came to fish in our pond. I've missed seeing and talking with Roy over the past few years since my parents are gone and Roy has moved from his home. Roy is someone I will never forget and always feel blessed to have known. God bless his family. Sandy Leckrone
