“ I would've helped you, had I known.

You meant so much to me, more than you knew.

You were family, you were important.

I've been to that place before.

I know what it's like to shatter into a million pieces.

I know how to put myself back together again.

You are always loved.

“ Steve was one of the most hard working, kind hearted men I have ever known. I met Steve because he was a friend of my husbands at the time. We had a lot of good times with his family when we all lived near each other. Bringing the kids over to ride our horses, helping out after our house caught on fire. Steve was always willing to help. Also remembering the time when the 4 of us went to Cedar Point! Lost touch over the past few years but I will never forget you. Sending prayers to the family

I remember the day your spouse was using the backhoe and accidentally hit the corner of Stephanie's windshield and all Steve did was laugh and grabbed her and said "don't look!" He wouldn't get mad. He always handled everything as calm as possible.
