“ I'm so sorry for the family's loss--you've had far too much of it lately. Although I hardly knew Tim, I do remember him and Jane coming to vote in Macy when I was working the polls. He was already wheelchair-bound, but they were both so funny and friendly that the memory has stayed with me. Thank you both for that, Jane. My heart is with you.

“ I won't be able to say all of this at the funeral, so I'm typing it now.

I have a lot of memories of my uncle Tim! I remember when we nieces and nephews were little, Tim taking us on the motorcycle to go out and round up the cows. We would always fight over who go to go. He and my dad would also take us on motorcycle rides down the road and back. When Tim and Jane were building their house, I remember going with my dad and Tim to see the poured basement. Tim lifted me down into the basement with him so I could stand on the floor.

After I was older, he was always so excited to see my kids, and I can still hear him saying, "Sadie!" I was also able to take Tim lunch a couple of times while he was still at home, and enjoyed just sitting and talking with him. He was a good man, a fun uncle, and always had a positive attitude. I'm glad he has a new body and can walk again-- and that he is with my grandparents. He will be missed.
